

Before and After 1-100

Purpose:

You can help your child to practice the numbers one before and after the numbers in the range 0-100.

What you need:

- Hundreds board. You can print this or make your own.
- Counters or small squares of cardboard.

What to do:

Print the hundreds board. Cover some numbers with counters or small squares of card. Ask your child to identify the number under the counter, encourage them to look at the number before it to work it out. For example, if 67 is covered draw their attention to the uncovered 66 and ask what number comes after 66.

Cover two consecutive numbers and ask them to identify the higher number first by using the number after it. For example, if 25, 26 are covered, ask them what number comes before 27.

What to expect your child to do:

To correctly identify the covered number by using the numbers on either side.

Variation:

Ask your child to identify a number 10 before or 10 after a number by moving up and down the columns, for example 35 is 10 before 45 and is directly above 45 on the hundreds board rows,

He Kupu Māori:

paparau	hundreds chart, hundreds board
uhi (~a)	cover up
mua	before, in front of
muri	after, coming behind

He Whakawhitinga Kōrero:

- He paparau tēnei. Ko ngā tau mai i te tahi ki te kotahi rau. (This is a hundreds board. It has the numbers from 1 to 100.)
- Kua uhia ētahi o ngā tau. (Some of the numbers are covered up.)
- He aha ngā tau e uhia ana? (What are the numbers that are covered up?)
- Titiro ki te tau ki mua i te tau e uhia ana. He aha te tau e whai muri ana? (Look at the number before the one covered up. What follows after that one?)
- Titiro ki te tau ki muri i te tau e uhia ana. He aha te tau ki mua i tērā? (Look at the number after the one covered up. What is the number before that one?)
